

Your Investments in Action

As summer heats up and people continue to return to life with eased restrictions, families are welcoming the simple joys of life, from beaches and barbecues to the comforting embrace of family and friends.

This also marks the season when thousands of children in our area are worried about where their next meal is coming from. In fact, in our eight-county area, an estimated 58,160 children may experience food insecurity this year. And we believe no child should ever go hungry.

As neighbors continue to demonstrate resilience and strength in the wake of the pandemic, the Akron-Canton Regional Foodbank is committed to helping make sure families facing hunger have the nourishing meals they need.

Your partnership helps us raise awareness and support to meet the need among our most vulnerable population: our children. For that — and all you do in the fight against hunger year-round — we extend our gratitude.

Receiving this food allows me to do the other things I need to do to care for my family. Words just aren't enough to show how appreciative we are.
