EVERY MEAL HAS A STORY LIKE KIM’S

Kim moved to the Akron area 10 years ago. She realized in order to save herself, to separate herself from her addiction, she would need a change of pace with different scenery and friends. When she arrived in Akron, she didn’t have a home or a support system to help her. She relied heavily on a local shelter before checking into rehab. Though she is unable to work and receives disability, sometimes she still needs a little help at the end of the month. She’s able to cover her other expenses by having a meal or two at the local hot meal site in her neighborhood.

“I’m not beyond needing some help every now and then,” she explains. “I feel that some people have lost hope, but I’m thankful to come to a program like this, to feel worthy, to be fed, and to not worry where my next meal is coming from.”

Kim is grateful for those who have helped her put her life back together. She is an active member of her church, and has been volunteering with its pantry program for the past few years.

“I am abundantly blessed, and now I want to give back to my community in any way I can.”

RETIREE DEDICATES TIME TO FOODBANK

When Paul Martell retired five years ago, he began looking for meaningful ways to give back to the local community. He learned of the Akron-Canton Regional Foodbank through college friends and his wife and decided to register as a volunteer. Five years later, you can still spot Paul in our Volunteer Center donating his time and talents twice per week!

Although Paul has volunteered with other organizations, the Foodbank quickly became his favorite place to donate his time. He also volunteers weekly at Riverwood Chapel, one of the Foodbank’s partner programs.

“Food and shelter are, to me, the two most important issues for people, and when you don’t have them, it puts you at a horrible disadvantage.” Paul contributes more than 200 hours of service to the Foodbank each year!

He enjoys working alongside other regular volunteers, which include his wife, Susan, and Foodbank staff.

“If you volunteer or contribute in any way, it’s very rewarding. The donated food is handled carefully, and the enthusiasm surrounding the work is tangible.”

GOOD SAMARITAN HUNGER CENTER SERVES AS POP-UP PANTRY

The Good Samaritan Hunger Center has been serving the Akron community since 1982. Founded by Sister Jordan Haddad, a Dominican Sister of Peace, her goal was to ensure that “one day no man, woman or child would go hungry.”

35 years later, the legacy continues through its Executive Director Michele Smith, coincidentally second cousin of Sister Haddad. The program is a wonderful addition to the Foodbank’s hunger-relief network.

“We continue to do what we do because there are still people who are hungry in our community,” explained Michele.

“I don’t want people to have to choose between feeding their family and paying their rent.”

The Good Samaritan Hunger Center has evolved its programming to reflect the community’s needs. It functions as a pop-up pantry, taking its services to communities that need it most, meeting people where they are.

The last three Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each month, the Good Samaritan administers its grocery bag program in North Hill, Summit Lake, and the Akron Urban League. Averaging 170 bags per week, it consists of a three-day food supply and includes meat, fresh produce and homemade soup.

Relatively new to Good Samaritan’s programming is its backpack program with Findley Community Learning Center. When Michele heard Foodbank President & CEO Dan Flowers speak at an event last spring, she learned that more than one in five children in our service area struggles with hunger.

“When I heard him say that, not only did it break my heart, but it stuck with me. I keep it in mind for everything we do here,” she said.

Michele and a group of volunteers meet each Wednesday to assemble 220 backpacks filled with two breakfasts, lunches and snacks for the weekend. In many cases, the students served by this program rely heavily on the food served in school, and therefore may go hungry during the weekend.
THANK YOU FOR SUPPORTING THE HOLIDAY CAMPAIGN

During the holiday season, the need for food for families struggling with hunger seems magnified.

Though hunger affects our community members daily, all year round, the Foodbank is extremely grateful for the support it received during its annual Holiday Campaign.

The campaign was a huge success and helped provide our neighbors in need with a heart-warming meal to share with those they love.

Two of our largest events were the Long Haul Against Hunger and the Selfless Elf 5k.

On December 1, 2017, the Foodbank partnered with iHeartMedia radio stations, 98.1 KDD, My 101.7, Rock 106.9, 640 WHLO, Fox Sports 1350 and 99.7 Canton’s New Country for the annual Long Haul Against Hunger. Listeners of the stations were encouraged to drive by and donate non-perishable food items and monetary donations at two live broadcast locations in Akron and Canton.

More than $103,000 was collected on this single day along with food donations, which, together, totaled the equivalent of more than 415,000 meals.

Another component of the Holiday Campaign included nearly 100 organizations coordinating a food and funds drive with their schools, churches, friends and family, or conducting a Point of Purchase program at their local business.

To wrap-up the Holiday Campaign, the Foodbank welcomed more than 1,300 guests for the fifth annual Selfless Elf 5k. Runners, walkers, families and furry friends alike dressed in holiday-themed costumes and the iconic striped elf socks. The race began and ended at the Foodbank and all who participated had the chance to meet Santa!
